

RELEWISE PROVIDES THE FOLLOWING GUARANTEES FOR THE AVAILABILITY OF RELEWISE SEARCH & RECOMMENDATION SERVICES

If Relewise does not meet this Service Level Agreement ("SLA") for its search & recommendation services, and if Subscriber meets its obligations under this SLA, Subscriber will be eligible to receive the invoice credits described below. This SLA states Subscriber's sole and exclusive remedy for any failure by Relewise to meet the SLA.

Invoice credits are calculated as follows:

Credit = (Monthly Traffic Price × Outage Period Minutes) ÷ Minutes in the applicable service month. Capped at 50% of the Traffic Price for the applicable month.

SLA terms:

- Monthly Guaranteed Uptime: 99.95%
- Monthly Cap: 50% of the Traffic Price for the applicable month

Expected uptime is greater than 99.99% (based on historical data)

Invoice Credits Terms and Conditions:

Credits will be made in the form of a monetary credit applied to future use of the Service. A pending credit does not release a Subscriber from its obligation to pay Relewise invoices submitted for payment in full when due.

In order for a Subscriber to be eligible to receive a credit under this SLA, the Subscriber must use the latest major version of Relewise API.

Service Credits may not be exchanged for, or converted to, monetary compensation.

Service degradation or suspension as a result of a Subscriber exceeding limits under an applicable Relewise subscription is not considered as an Outage covered by this SLA.

Additional conditions apply as defined in Subscriber's customer agreement.
